Runaway Negro.
RAN AWAY from the subscriber, early in July, a negro man named GREENBAY.
He is about 36 years of age, 5 feet 11 inches or 6 feet high, of a tawny complexion, has a scar on one of his jaws or side of his face forming a half circle; I think it is on the right, but am not positive. He is a slim made fellow, with a bushy head, and when spoken to has a scary and down look. When he went away he had a green round coat, buff colored breeches, with homespun cleathing, and has never been accustomed to any work but in the crop or field. I have understood he has crossed the Potomac about Britain's Bay, over into Maryland. I expect he has procured a pass and will endeavor to appear as a freeman.
All masters of vessels, and others are forewarned from harboring or carrying him away under the penalty of the law.
I will give Twenty Dollars reward if taken in Maryland, or Fifteen if taken in the Northern Neck, so that I get him again,

RAN AWAY,
On the morning of the 16th September, instant, from my farm near Dumfries, in Prince-William county, under the management of Mr. John Stone, a dark mulatto negro man, named
FRANK;
About 26 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches high, well set and proportioned, but rather thick and chunky, woolly head, pleasant countenance; in his walk he swings his arms considerably, and turns out his toes more than common; can read and write, and will attempt to pass for a freeman; has been accustomed from his infancy to the business of a waiter, and lived in Alexandria for many years; is fond of gaming and bad company; probably he will be endeavoring to reach Baltimore or some more northern town—being of an inactive disposition he may try to get on board some vessel. All persons are forbid to receive or harbor him or assist him in his elopement.
The above reward and all reasonable charges will be paid for apprehending the aforesaid Slave and securing him in any goal so that I get him again.

THE REVIEW. NO. VII.

We concluded our last number with Mr. Randolph's charge against Mr. Jefferson, that his object in holding two different languages, the one public and official, the other private and confidential, was to shift the responsibility of his own measures off upon congress, unquestionably that was his design. It is perfectly consonant with the tenor of his whole life, and particularly with all his conduct ever since he became president.

It was of this same duplicity, this treacherous, two fold behavior that Genet once complained in the bitterness of his heart. While Mr. Jefferson seconded his terrible views on the independence of this country in the closet, he combatted them in public as secretary of state. It was too much for the patience of the Frenchman and he exposed him.

It was this same system of low and cowardly cunning that dictated the dispatches to commodore Morris in the Mediterranean; in which it was so managed as to betray the commodore into war without committing the administration, thus leaving the president free to adopt or disavow his acts; and which ended, of course, in the persecution of that officer by Mr. Jefferson.

It was this turn for stratagem to retain his popularity at the expense, the sacrifice of every one else, that made him involve Mr. Eaton in a snare which nothing but the courage, the vigor, and the good sense of that officer could have extricated him from. It was this that brought ruin and desolation on Hamet Caramanli, a friend it is not even pretended we had given any sort of offence; nay, of those who have been for years engaged in plundering and robbing us as long as they had a marine to enable them to do it.

Not long after this declaration of the secretary of state, Mr. Randolph tells us he was met by the secretary of the treasury, who put into his hands a paper headed "Provision for the purchase of Florida," and told him that he had devised a plan for raising the money, as he had been requested or directed by the president. But from the national honor and national defence, and of delivering the public purse to the first cut-throat that demanded it." The answer was worthy a native of America. It was the language of an independent freeman, who felt as he ought for the humiliating state of his country. He concluded with declaring that "he held true wisdom and cunning to be incompatible in the conduct of great affairs." And in a subsequent conversation with the president himself, he declared that he too had character to support and principles to maintain, and that he was determined to oppose the whole scheme.

It is to be lamented that Mr. Randolph had not made the disclosure of all this to the house at an earlier period than he did, for it was not till after the appropriation had been voted. His indignation it seems, at length got the better of all prudential considerations, and he told the whole openly and boldly on the floor of congress. On which occasion, he informs us, Mr. Nicholson (who had voted for the appropriation) exclaimed, that he trusted in God the negotiation would fail; and that several other members who had voted with him were shocked, and expressed regret for the vote they had given.

The appropriation was made—the bill passed, and the nation was bubbled and dishonored.

From the (North Carolina) Raleigh Register.

EXTRAORDINARY PHENOMENON.

The following account of an extraordinary phenomenon, that appeared to a number of people in the county of Rutherford, state of North Carolina, was made the 7th of August, 1806, in presence of David Dickie, Esq. of the county and state at large, Jesse Anderson and the Rev. George Newton, of the county of Buncomb, and Miss Betsey Newton, of the state of Georgia, who unanimously agreed, with the consent of the relations, that Mr. Newton should communicate it to Mr. J. Gales, editor of the Raleigh Register and State Gazette.

Patsy Reaves, a widow woman, who lives near the Apalachian mountain, declared, that on the 31st day of July last, about 6 o'clock in the evening, her daughter Elizabeth, about eight years old, was in the cotton field, about ten poles from the dwelling house, which stands by computation six furlongs from the Chimney mountain, and that Elizabeth told her brother Morgan, aged eleven years, that there was a man on the mountain. Morgan was incredulous at first; but the little girl affirmed it, and said she saw him rowling rocks or picking up sticks, adding that she saw a heap of people. Morgan then went to the place where she was, and calling out said that he saw a thousand or ten thousand things flying in the air. On which Polly, daughter of Mrs. Reaves, aged 14 years, and a negro woman, ran to the children, and called to Mrs. Reaves to come and see what a sight yonder was. Mrs. Reaves says, she went about five poles towards them, and without any sensible alarm or fright, she turned towards the Chimney mountain, and discovered a very numerous crowd of beings resembling the human species; but could not discern any particular members of the human body, nor distinction of sexes; that they were of every size, from the tallest men down to the least infants; that they were more of the small than of the full grown, that they were all clad with brilliant white raiment, but could not describe any form of their raiment; that they appeared to rise off the side of a mountain south of said rock, and about as high; that a considerable part of the mountain's top was visible above this shining host; that they moved in a northern direction, and collected about the top of the Chimney rock. When a few had reached said rock, two seemed to rise together, and behind them about two feet, a third rose. These three moved with great agility towards the crowd, and had the nearest resemblance to men of any before seen. While beholding these three, her eyes were attracted by three more rising nearly from the same place, and moving swiftly in the same order and direction. After those, several others rose and went towards the rock.

During this view, which all the spectators thought lasted upwards of an hour, she sent for Mr. Robert Siercy, who did not come at first; on a second message sent about fifteen minutes after the first, Mr. Siercy came, and being now before us, he gives the following relation, to the substance of which Mrs. Reaves agrees.

Mr. Siercy said, when he was coming he expected to see nothing extraordinary, and when come being asked if he saw those people on the mountain he answered no, but on looking a second time, he said he saw more glittering white appearances of human kind than ever he had seen of men at any general review; that they were of all sizes from that of men to infants; that they moved in throngs round a large rock not far from the chimney rock; they were about the height of the chimney rock and moved in a semi-circular course, between him and the rock and so passed along in a southern course between him and the mountain, to the place where Mrs. Reaves said they rose; and that two of a full size went before the general crowd about the space of 20 yards; and as they respectively came to this place, they vanished out of sight, leaving a solemn and pleasing impression on the mind, accompanied with a diminution of bodily strength.

Whether the above be accountable on philosophical principles, or whether it be a prelude to the descent of the Holy City, I leave to the impartially curious to judge.

GEORGE NEWTON.

P. S. The above subscriber has been informed, that on the same evening, and about the same time in which the above phenomenon appeared, there was seen by a gentleman of character, who was several miles distant from the place, a bright rainbow, apparently near the sun, then in the west, where there was no appearance of either clouds or rain; but a haze in the atmosphere. The public are therefore at liberty to judge whether the phenomenon had any thing supernatural in it, or whether it was some usual exhalation or moist vapor from the side of the mountain, which exhibited such an unusual rain-bow.

FROM THE PEOPLE'S FRIEND.

If we had the progress of the affairs between Spain and us, we shall be astonished no less at the want of common sense than at the want of spirit in our national councils. We were compulsorily pushed from our right of deposit at New Orleans—rather than boldly resume it as it ought to have been resumed, we negotiated away the offence, buying New Orleans and, for the sake of it, all Louisiana. As soon as we have paid our money Spain makes an intrusion upon us, forbidding us the use of certain rivers in the place she had sold. We endeavor to negotiate that offence away too; but Spain, knowing that humiliation is our habit, refuses to listen to us. It will be remembered that two years ago, or more, the congressional house of representatives came to a resolution that America must get the Floridas either by purchase or by force; Spain says to us "you shall not have the Floridas by purchase—so, now keep your word if you can and take them by force." The ambassador of Spain insults your chief magistrate, who in a paroxysm of that kind of courage which timid hearts collect from the high effervescence of their fears, orders the ambassador from the seat of government, and his sovereign to recall him. But that monarch gives the ambassador fresh credentials and orders him to beard our government. For half this, our legislature would have been stimulated to make non-importation laws against England, and "to try which could do the most hurt." But our executive knows that England can at all times be negotiated with, whereas the miserable pigeon Spain stuck under the wing of its spoliating vulture the Corsican, if once irritated could never be appeased by that Jeffersonian warfare—negotiation. In the eye of England, mild even in anger, we might look—for powerful though she is, she will listen to reason. But at the bloody brow of Bonaparte we dare not glance. In his terrific presence the mind's eye becomes dazzled—in the contemplation of him the base heart becomes vanquished. And while our rulers gaze in tremulous, panic stricken admiration at the enemy of mankind, not a gleam of comfort breaks across their minds, save that which they derive, whatever it may be, from the hope of compromise with his high and mighty will, and by submission scarcely conditional to his mandates. In this abject distrust of themselves and their country's power does it never occur to our statesmen that submission to outrage, insult or extortion never fails to induce repetition of them with increased weight; and that every step we recede we have so much more to fight back again, or else yield. Thus the fears of our government beget our danger. How finely is this temper and conduct described by Burke, in the following words, which he applied in 1796 to the British ministers, meanly begging negotiation from France. "In the palpable night of their terrors, men under consternation suppose not that it is the danger which by a sure instinct calls out the courage to resist it, but that is the courage which does produce the danger. They therefore seek for a refuge from their fears in their fears themselves, and consider a temporizing meanness as the only source of safety."

Arrivals from Labrador, state that the fishermen have had excellent luck. The amount taken on board eight vessels, were 906,000 fish! A number of vessels left at Labrador, had each, from 90, to 100,000 fish on board!

NEW YORK, September 22.

About 10 o'clock last night, the house No. 175, Pearl's street, owned and occupied by Mr. Benjamin Bakewell, merchant, was discovered to be on fire. The family being in the country, the front doors were broken open with axes; and by the exertions of the firemen and citizens, the fire was extinguished after considerable injury had been sustained. The fire originated in the cellar, and is supposed to have been done by design.

On Saturday evening Mr. Wood's bake house in Fair street, received some damage by fire.

To the editor of the Evening Post.

SIR,
"I take the freedom of dropping you this line, in order to undeceive you with regard to the fate of the unfortunate crews of Miranda's two schooners. It is stated in Lagura by all the Spaniards, as well governmental officers as others, that of the two crews, ten of the principal men (viz. the officers) were hung at Port Cavello; and all the remainder sent to the mines, or put in confinement for life. From these, however, are to be excepted, two boys, from 12 to 14 years of age, who are to be sent back to the United States. This is said, in Lagura, to be the real fate of the crews, and is universally credited by Spaniards and Americans; indeed I have no doubt of its correctness. After these people were hung, their heads were taken off, and six sent to Caraccas, two to Lagura, and two kept at Port Cavello. The two heads sent to Lagura, are put up in iron cages, and hung on lofty poles just without the front gate of the city. Mr. Lynch, a very intelligent gentleman from Philadelphia, residing at Caraccas, told me, that he saw the two heads when first put up at Lagura—they were then fresh, and he felt pretty confident that one of them was the head of captain Donehan (I presume I do not spell the name properly) the other he thought to be captain Gardner's—this, however, must be only conjecture.

The reason why I did not mention the above circumstance in my letter to you from quarantine ground, was, that I supposed the American public must have been possessed of the facts some time before. You will excuse my troubling you with this relation, as it is merely to satisfy your own mind upon the subject."

Valuable Medicines, which are in high esteem and general use throughout the United States, many of them being sold cheaper

Dr. HAMILTON'S ELIXIR.
A sovereign remedy for Colds, Obsolete Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Sore Throat, and approaching Consumptions.
To Parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, This discovery is of the first magnitude, as it is an immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The Elixir is so perfectly agreeable and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

From LUTHER MARTIN, Esq. Attorney-General of the State of Maryland.
Gentlemen,
I comply with your request in stating my opinion of Hamilton's Elixir. It has been used in my family for two or three years past, with uniform success, whenever colds, coughs, or similar complaints have rendered medicine necessary. I have myself found it an excellent and agreeable remedy for a very painful and troublesome affection of the breast, accompanied with foreboding and with obstructed and difficult breathing.
On these accounts I do not hesitate to recommend Hamilton's Elixir, as a valuable medicine, and deserving public attention.

LUTHER MARTIN.
Mr. Abijah Henry, Bridge-Street, Baltimore, was cured by one bottle of Hamilton's Elixir of a very complicated disorder, occasioned by a severe cold caught several months ago. He breathed with the greatest difficulty, and was often thrown into weakening sweats when he attempted to walk any distance, and his voice would frequently fail in such a degree that he could only attempt to whisper: he has been upwards of six weeks without a return of his complaints, and desires to give this public testimony in favor of this invaluable medicine.

Dr. Hamilton's GRAND RESTORATIVE, Is recommended as an invaluable medicine, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various consumptions which result from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavorable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intemperance, or any other destructive intemperance—the cankering or excessive use of mercury—the disease peculiar to females, and a certain period of life—bad lying in, &c. &c.
And is proved by long and extensive experience to be absolutely unparalleled in the cure of Nervous Disorders,
Consumptions,
Lowness of spirits,
Loss of appetite,
Impurity of the blood,
Hysterical affections,
Inward weakness,
Seminal weakness,

Barrenness, &c. &c.
Violent cramps in the Stomach and back,
Indigestion,
Melancholy,
Gout in the stomach,
Pains in the limbs,
Relaxations,
Involuntary emissions,
Obstinate gleet,
Impotency, &c. &c.

In cases of extremity, where the long prevalence and obstinacy of disease has brought on a general impoverishment of the system, excessive debility of the whole frame, and a wasting of the flesh, which no nourishment or cordial could repair, a performance in the use of this medicine has performed the most astonishing cures.

GENTLEMEN,
I purchased at your shop the preparations you call Hamilton's Essence, or Extract of Mustard, which I believe has perfectly removed a chronic rheumatism (of that kind named sciatica, or of the hip joint) under which I had labored for a long time, and which had baffled every article in the Materia Medica, and every mode of treatment received into practice for the cure of this obstinate disease. If you think this letter useful you are at liberty to make it public.

were procured from Mr. Birch, No. 17, South Second

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES, Which have within four years past cured upwards of one hundred and twenty thousand persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or fluxes in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever of similar to commonly complained of as operating with violence, on the contrary a particular excellence of this contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent and so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady, or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body, but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. They are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and corruptions; fevers and bilious complaints, and the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on the occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infect the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz. the Tere or large round worm, the Ascarides, or small maw worm, the Cucurbitina, or short flat, white worm, and lastly, the Tenia or tape worm so called from its resemblance to tape; this is often many yards long, and is full of joints—it is most hurtful and most difficult to cure.

Among the symptoms attending worms, are disagreeable breath, especially in the morning—Bad and corrupted gums, itching in the nose and about the feet—Convulsions and epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech—Starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep—Irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious—Purging, with slimy and fetid stools—Vomiting—Large and hard belly—Pains and sickness at the stomach—Pains in the head and thighs, with towness of spirits—Slow fever, with small and irregular pulse—A dry cough—Excessive thirst—Sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's worm destroying lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children, a dreadful disorder which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our cities. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known and has restored to health and strength a great number when in advanced stages of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness, having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

or personal application.

TAPE WORM.
Mr. SAMUEL FULLER, Inn keeper, on the Harford road, ten miles from Baltimore, began about twenty months ago to be grievously afflicted with a tape worm, which increased fast in size and strength, so as to excite the most horrid sensations by his writhing motions and intolerable pains, resembling the gnawing and tearing of his bowels, which deprived him of his necessary sleep, and caused such dreadful apprehensions as cannot be conveyed but by one in a similar situation—his appetite wasted rapidly, and with that his strength, so that he was unable to attend to any business—when he heard of some excellent cures performed by Hamilton's worm lozenges, he took a large dose, which brought away a bout FOUR YARDS of the worm (now in the possession of Lee, & Co.) but a renewal of his pains soon convinced him that this monstrous reptile had recovered its first vigor—Application was made to Lee & Co. for more of their medicine, with strict advice, from which refused the total expulsion of his formidable enemy, in several pieces, which he supposed to be SIX or EIGHT YARDS more. A few months have since elapsed, and Mr. Fuller is now in perfect health. The above facts are well known to a numerous circle of his neighbors and himself will gratify any who wish to make further inquiries on the subject. Although Hamilton's worm lozenges produce such powerful effects, when necessary, yet they are perfectly innocent and mild in their operation on the human body, even taken in large doses, as Mr. Fuller will testify—their particular influence is abundantly evident in innumerable cures of infants.

Communicated by Dr. John Spangler, York town, Pennsylvania.

Letter from the reverend Mr. JOHN MÖLTER, minister of the Moravian church, in York town, York, January 4th, 1802.

DEAR SIR,
Dr. Hamilton's lozenges have been recommended to me as a very adequate means for the cure of children afflicted with worms. I procured a box for the use of my family, to try whether by means of this medicine I might be enabled to gain a point, which, to accomplish, different other means had proved abortive. My eldest boy had a very feckly appearance, was very restless at night, grew leaner from time to time, in short, he seemed to be in a precarious state of health, which would yield to none of the medicines administered until I gave him two doses of lozenges, agreeably to the directions, which carried off a substance to all appearance a mere mucus but upon close inspection quite re-peled with very small living animals. Not one of that sort of worms which usually afflict children came from him. Since that period he grew remarkably better in health, and though lean, has got a fresh and lively complexion. Upon different occasions I have used this medicine as a purging substitute, and found it to answer exceedingly well, without bringing on belly ache, or any other disagreeable sensation, is often occasioned by purgative medicines. Upon the which I judge this medicine to be, besides its main object, one of the most valuable means for restoring lost appetite, and promoting a proper state of digestion, by carrying off that bilious substance, which engenders so much indisposition both among children and adults.

I am, Sir, your most obedient servant,

JOHN MÖLTER.

The genuine Persian Lotion, So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, as an invaluable cosmetic perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent miacra (the basis of other lotions) and of unparalleled efficacy in preventing and removing blemishes in the face and skin of every kind, particularly freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scuffs, tetters, rings worms, yan burns, prickly heat, &c.

The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding that natural, takeable perspiration, which is so essential to health. Yet its salutary effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and clear, improving the complexion, and restoring the bloom of youth. Never failing to render an ordinary countenance beautiful, and an handsome one more so.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts & strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all that acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Dr. Hahn's genuine Eye-Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident, deflections of rheum, dullness, itching and films on the eyes, never failing to cure those ma-ladies which frequently succeed the small pox, measles and fevers, and wonderfully strengthening a weak sight. Hundreds have experienced its excellent virtues, when nearly deprived of sight.

Tooth Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

The sovereign Ointment for the Itch.

Which is warranted an infallible remedy at one application, and may be used with perfect safety on pregnant women or on infants a week old, containing not a particle of mercury, or any other dangerous ingredient whatever, and is not accompanied with that tormenting smell, which attends the application of other remedies.

Dr. Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off fuperfluous bile, and prevent its morbid secretions; to restore and amend the appetite: to procure a free perspiration, and thereby prevent colds, which are often attended with fatal consequences as dole never fails to remove a cold, if taken on its first appearance. They are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness, sickness at the stomach, and severe head aches, and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

Celebrated Gout and Rheumatic Drops.

NOTHING is of more importance than the preservation of health—this common place remark however is too often forgotten, whilst we are active and strong—and prevention of pain, which is superior to its cure, is not sufficiently attended to by any description of persons. Among those disorders which require the most early and unremitting efforts to eradicate and overcome, none have a stronger claim upon our notice than the Gout, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Weakness of the Joints, Sprains, Gleet, the Stone and Gravel, the Cramp and every species of Rheumatic Pains from whatever cause they may have originated—and hence every relief which can be administered is too valuable to be forgotten.— Those persons whose avocations peculiarly expose them to colds, &c. cannot be too anxious always to possess immediate aid. Sea-faring persons, travellers, &c. ought constantly to carry with them that medicine which will counteract the unpleasant effects of their perilous duties, and especially those pains to which their situation most expose them. To those who reside in or visit the West-Indies, and other warm climates, they will be found upon trial to convey the most lasting service, and will gradually destroy all tendency to disease in the human frame, and preserve health and vigor. Although a great variety of prescriptions have been published to cure the disorders enumerated above, none has yet equalled the GOUT AND RHEUMATIC DROPS OF DR. TISSOT, which are celebrated throughout the European continent, and whose unbounded benefits are fully authenticated by certificates already published of gentlemen well known in America, being of the first sequence in the State of Maryland: General Charles Ridgely, of Hampton; John Gibson, Esq. one of the directors of the Farmers' Bank of Maryland; John Macubbin, Esq. Mr. Macubbin, his wife; and Mrs. Ryan, of Calver place; to which may be added, the following testimony of respectable gentlemen residing in the city of Baltimore:

Certificate of Mr. Thomas Kello, butcher.

About three weeks since I was most violently attacked with Rheumatic pains throughout my whole frame, in so severe a manner as not to be able to turn in my bed without assistance proceeding as I suppose from a severe cold on being advised by a friend to apply Dr. Tis-sot's Gout and Rheumatic Drops, I accomingly obtained from the agents Messrs. Geo.
Dobbin and Murphy, two bottles, the application of which, under God, have perfectly restored me to health. I am therefore induced with confidence to recommend this medicine as a certain cure for the above disorder.

THOMAS KELLO.
Baltimore, July 22d, 1806.

Certificate of Mr. Thomas Campbell, Har-maker.

It would be an act of injustice to withhold my testimony of the salutary effects of Doctor Tissot's Gout and Rheumatic Drops, as I have experienced a very unequivocal instance of their virtues and efficacy. I was afflicted with two severe attacks of what is usually called Dead Palsy, from which I partially recovered, but was obliged to use crutches to aid me in walking when I left home; to this were joined violent Rheumatic pains, the result of the infection, and I had feared the disorder would accompany me through life; but providentially was recommended to apply at George Do-bin and Murphy's for Dr. Tissot's Drops, and after using only one bottle, found myself perfectly liberated from my disorder, and am now, thank God, as free from pain as if I never had been afflicted. Finding this medicine operate so powerfully on myself, I determined to apply it internally to my child, a boy only eleven months old, who was then reduced almost to a skeleton with the Bowel Complaint; after administering it four times to him, the complaint was entirely removed, and he is now recovering his strength with great rapidity.
